2. About the Residents’ Panel

The Tower Hamlets Homes’ Residents’ Panel was established in 2010. Made up for volunteers from all walks of life, the panel serves as an advisory body that helps to shape what we do and how we work. Membership of the panel is open to 11 residents who serve three year terms and meet bi-monthly. The panel is usually made up of five tenants, four leaseholds and two private tenants of leaseholders.

The Residents’ panel is also responsible for holding Tower Hamlets Homes to account for its performance and the quality of services it provides. They also make recommendations to our Board on how we can improve our services. To date, the Panel has carried out reviews of a number of areas. This has included reviews of our ASB and Resident Engagement services, and the processes for managing complaints and estate inspections.

This is a big challenge, so expect to commit on average the equivalent of one day per month to this important and exciting role. Occasionally, you may be required to attend commit to additional meetings when the Panel is carrying out a scrutiny review.

Our Panel members are not paid, but we’ll meet appropriate travel and childcare expenses. You’ll also get to meet new people, learn valuable new skills and be a vital part of something big – building a better, brighter Tower Hamlets for everyone.

What skills do you need to join the Residents’ Panel?

All panel members are recruited based on their skills and ability to make the necessary commitment to serve as a member of the Residents’ Panel. Although no previous experience is needed, we look for someone who:

- has good communication skills
- has the ability to be objective and can analyse, interpret and question information
- can weigh up issues, make balanced judgements and decisions based on evidence
- thinks local housing services and neighbourhoods can be improved
- has some spare time, energy and ideas to improve services.
3. THH Engagement Core Values

This section outlines the role and behaviour expected of members of all engagement and scrutiny panels operated by Tower Hamlets Homes (THH). It also sets out the spirit of partnership in which residents and THH members of staff should conduct their business.

- Participants must not disclose any confidential information that they may be provided access to during the course of their involvement.

- Members must not use meetings to report repairs, neighbour disputes or any other matters relating to their own personal tenancy or home ownership (unless relevant to the context of a discussion).

- Participants may not represent a political party through their involvement in a THH forum.
