Why start a Tenants and Residents Association?

There are many reasons for tenants and residents to get together and form an Association. Listed below are a few of the main ones:

- To work together with Tower Hamlets Homes to improve the services and building improvements you receive;
- To liaise with LBTH, Councillors and others on community matters such as parking in the neighbourhood or anti-social behaviour.
- To campaign for/against something, for instance the closure of a local school, changes in the caretaking services or the effects of new housing laws;
- To make sure your voice is heard and help build a sense of achievement and pride in the community;
- To organise outings and other social events such as summer fun days;
- To apply for grants to benefit the community – e.g. setting up a pensioners' group;

If you are interested in setting up a Tenants and Residents Association in your neighbourhood please read the policy and procedure for doing so.

THH Policy on Tenants and Residents Associations

Tower Hamlets Homes are strong advocates of tenants and residents associations (TRAs). We are committed to grassroots community voice and representation and we believe that resident groups help in creating better communities.

Tower Hamlets Homes believes a Tenants and Residents Association is a great way for residents in our neighbourhoods to come together to liaise with us on housing issues as a collective group of residents. A Tenants and Residents Association is also an organisation that can benefit the community by promoting activities and events which promote social cohesion and well-being.

Tower Hamlets Homes will financially support a Tenants and Residents Association and supply staff to attend meetings as long as a Tenants and Residents Association adheres to our Recognition Criteria.

Being 'recognised'

THH supports residents to set up a Tenants and Residents Association and will provide the following benefits:

- Provide relevant staff attendance at meetings
- Give a small annual administration grant to the Tenants and Residents Association (£100 plus 0.50p per property)
- Facilitate access to free training
- Provide photocopying, printing, computer access, etc. at the Residents Resource Centre
- Invite representatives to take part in consultation meetings, events & estate inspections
- Consult the Tenants and Residents Association on major changes

To benefit from the above, the Tenants and Residents Association must be 'recognised' by THH.

Recognition Criteria

- TRAs must adopt a constitution (set of rules). The THH model constitution is available and can be varied to reflect the group's specific aims and objectives but it must be agreed with THH. The constitution must include a code of conduct and an equal opportunities policy.
- A Tenants' and Residents Association should have clearly defined geographic boundaries e.g. an estate, block or named streets.
- An inaugural (initial) general meeting to set up the TRA must take place and all residents in the designated area must be invited to it. This shall be followed by three general meetings (one per quarter) and the next year's Annual General Meeting.
- TRAs must keep clear and accurate records showing the income received and how it has been spent. All groups should have clear financial systems to minimise the potential misuse of funds and be open and accountable.
- THH (or an independent organisation/individual agreed with THH) shall be invited to oversee all AGMs to insure transparency and compliance with constitution.
- TRAs must co-operate with any requests for information by THH and supply this within an agreed and reasonable timeframe.
- TRAs must supply details of their AGM i.e. copy of notice, annual report, accounts, committee details and contact information for THH web site.

How to set up a Tenants and Residents Association

Anyone interested in setting up a Tenants and Residents Association shall canvass the support of at least 10% other residents using our survey template. Depending on circumstances of the support, the following step will then be pursued:

A minimum of 10 people who expressed an interest in getting involved in a TRA shall meet with a THH Community Partnerships Officer, to work together to agree a draft constitution, roles and responsibilities and agree dates and plan for the inaugural AGM.

Once a decision to proceed is made, the draft constitution will be made available either at a local community centre, THH office or online, for all residents review prior to an inaugural (set up) general meeting. The meeting shall agree the constitution and vote in a Committee /Officers.

Once the committee/officers are voted in they will sign the constitution and give a copy to Tower Hamlets Homes.

Tower Hamlets Homes will supply the Tenants and Residents Association with a grant application form. The Community Partnerships Officer can assist the Tenants and Residents Association at the first few meetings (as required) and advise on what training is available to help the association function effectively.

GUIDANCE NOTES

Please read the guidance information and questions carefully before you begin. In answering each question, be as clear and concise as possible as it will help us make an informed decision about grant application.

Similarly, you will also find attached our criteria for recognising a Tenants' & Residents' Association (TRA). In order to be awarded the Small Grant, your TRA must meet all the criteria outlined in this document.

Applicants need to complete all Sections of the form, along with the 'Declaration' in Section B of the application form.

GUIDANCE NOTES – APPLICATION FORM
(Refer to appropriate question on application form)

Section A: Details About Applicant

Questions 1 – 9:

These are basic organisational questions. The key point is to ensure that the named contact person is the most appropriate person and is available to discuss the application.

Question 10:

Please state the number of Tower Hamlets Homes properties your TRA covers.

Question 11:

Please outline specifically the names of the Tower Hamlets Homes housing blocks that your TRA represents. Do not just provide the name of the housing estate in which your TRA is located. Please note that this information will determine the level of funding received by your TRA and, as such, will be verified by officers.

Question 12:

As a significant provider of services and/or activities for local residents, the voluntary sector plays a vital part in ensuring that equal opportunities and accessibility for a wide section of the community is maintained. It is important to let us know how your TRA is working towards achieving equal opportunities and/or accessibility in your TRA. Please note that equal opportunities requirements have a significant input into all Tower Hamlets Homes policies, such as the work of the Strategic Engagement Team and the criteria for awarding funding such as an annual Small Grant.

Question 13:

Please indicate the amount of grant requested from Tower Hamlets Homes.

Level of Grant available

All Groups are entitled to £100 per group and £0.50 pence per household in the defined area covered by the group's constitution or number of subscribed members to a maximum of £550.

Accounts or income/Expenditure Statement:

Please check with your TRA's accounts, cash books and financial statements first before answering this question. Provide a summary of all income and expenditure for your TRA in your financial year.

Guidance on understanding your Constitution

Firstly, once you have signed a Constitution you are expected to follow it. This guidance has been produced to address some common issues which have arisen regarding the rules of a Tenants & Residents Association.

What is a Constitution? It is a set of rules that sets out what you will do and how you will do it. THH has to agree to the rules to 'recognise' the Tenants & Residents Association to apply benefits such as access to grants, training, staff etc.

The Constitution states the minimum requirements that you have agreed with your members and THH. You can always have more meetings but you cannot have less.

You must do what it says:

- You cannot decide not to bother with for example, a notice in each door for the AGM.
- You cannot decide to hold your AGM longer than one year after the last one.
- The AGM notice must contain the agenda that is stated in the Constitution.
- Your accounts cannot be verified by a member/resident of your Tenants & Residents Association.
- One person cannot have two roles.

If something is not in your constitution it does not mean that you cannot do it. For instance, the THH model constitution does not contain a clause on sub-committees because Tenants & Residents Associations have very rarely had any. However, if you do wish to set up a sub committee please contact THH for advice.

Changing your Constitution must be done as stated in the rules. However, it may be sensible to act accordingly before waiting for e.g. the next AGM. If your rules do not suit you it is better to change them than break them. Contact us and we can agree a variation until the rules can be changed.

Breaking your rules is serious. Any member of the Tenants & Residents Association. Local councillor, member of staff, contractor etc. could put in a complaint that the Tenants & Residents Association is not following its rules. THH would have to investigate and a possible consequence could be that THH would 'de-recognise' the Tenants & Residents Association. This would mean benefits would cease e.g. access to grant, staff at meetings, etc.

Do not forget we are here to help. Get in touch if you are not sure about anything to do with your Constitution.

For more information about this meeting call

Example Equal Opportunities Statement for Tenants and Residents Associations

Tenants' and Residents' Associations are required to demonstrate a commitment to an Equal Opportunities Policy in order to receive recognition and support from Tower Hamlets Homes.

1. _____ TRA believes it must work towards a harmonious multi-racial community.
2. Therefore, it is committed to opposing all forms of discrimination and oppression. This includes racism, sexism and all forms of discrimination faced by black people and other ethnic communities; by women; by gay men and lesbians and by people with disabilities. The TRA is also committed to acting without discrimination on the grounds of nationality, political or religious belief.
3. The Tenants' & Residents' Association will introduce measures to remove direct and indirect discrimination in any of its activities.
4. The Tenants' & Residents' Association will work towards the development of awareness of equal opportunities issues.

Guidance on Committee Roles

The Role of the Chair

The Chair is often the central person of a Committee and is seen as the spokesperson for the group.

A Chairperson should not:

Take on all the work, responsibilities should be delegated and others should be encouraged to take part.

Express any view that has not been previously discussed by the Committee. The Chair can be often asked to represent the views of the Committee and TRA to external agencies.

Dominate meetings, he/she should maintain control but allow flexibility, encourage everyone to participate while ensuring time is used effectively.

The Chairperson should:

Prepare the agenda with the Secretary. Make sure it is not too long, and important items are prioritised on the agenda. Work out how long each item should take and ensure enough time is allocated to each item.

Ensure the meeting starts on time and that new people are welcomed. Everyone should be introduced including the guest speakers.

Introduce each agenda item explaining some background and what decisions need to be made.

During the meeting, ensure –

Everybody is encouraged to contribute to discussions;
Ask if translation is needed and make time for this;
Decisions are made and are understood;
Order is kept;
No member dominates the discussion;
Any jargon (technical terms) used are explained.

At the end of each item, summarise the main points, outline action to be taken and ensure people are encouraged to take on follow up work.

At the end of a meeting set a date, time and place for the next meeting. Thank everyone for attending.

The Role of the Secretary

The Secretary is responsible for the organisation of meetings, recording the meeting with minutes, writing letters, keeping members informed of meetings and future events, receiving correspondence and general organisation.

Depending on the size of the TRA, the amount of work can be vast so it may be better to split the job up e.g. minutes taken by the Secretary.

Day-to-day duties:

Writing and receiving letters on behalf of the group.

Keep an up-to-date record of Committee Members' details.

Organise an understandable record keeping system for minutes, correspondence, constitution etc.

Acting as the first point of contact for other organisations.

Keeping all residents informed through newsletters and annual report, including the next TRA meeting dates.

Meetings:

Receive agenda items. Prepare and distribute the agendas and minutes to residents as per the Constitution. For internal/external staff members at least 10 days before a meeting.

Ensure the meeting place is booked, that someone will open up, arrange the venue and close up after the meeting.

During the meeting:

Have a signing in sheet

Take apologies, agree minutes of last meeting;

Record matters arising, present correspondence to Committee;

Record discussion of meeting as simply as possible;

Record decisions accurately, record time meeting ended.

Write up the minutes as soon as possible after the meeting while it is still fresh in the mind and send to committee and staff who were present.

The Role of the Treasurer

The Treasurer has the overall responsibility for the group's finances. The role of the Treasurer is very important but the amount of work is dependent on how much money the Residents' Association deals with.

The Treasurer's duties:

Open and maintain a bank or building society account;
Keep accurate account books of all financial transactions with receipts and invoices;
Prepare regular financial reports for the Committee;
Allow, upon reasonable notification, any resident to inspect the account books;
Prepare the books for an annual audit or independent verification to be presented at the AGM;
Ensure the bank mandate is up-to-date;
If considering on-line banking ensure you have policy for use (sample enclosed and available from THH)

Example Code of Conduct for Meetings

1. Speak through the Chair
2. Follow the guidance of the Chair in the conduct of a meeting
3. Be courteous to each other
4. Respect each participant's view
5. Refrain from making derogatory personal remarks or comments about another member
6. Allow each participant the opportunity to speak without interrupting. Remember only one person can speak at a time. If more than one person wishes to speak at the same time, the Chair will decide who shall speak first
7. Remember the purpose of the meeting and do not deviate from the agenda
8. Work in partnership with all resident members and Tower Hamlets Homes staff to seek the best results
9. Do not dominate the proceedings at a meeting. This includes – repeatedly muttering, shouting, swearing, talking too long and preventing others from sharing their views or comments, ridiculing others opinions or forcing their own views on others
10. Never use offensive or racist language
11. Never discriminate against another because of their ethnicity, gender, age, disability, sexual orientation, sexuality, class, income, employment status or religious belief
12. Assist all participants to reach effective decisions

Guidance for TRAs on planning an AGM

This is your celebration of achievements over the year and your chance to recruit new members to your committee - make it informative and enjoyable. Plan well in advance.

Consider:

- What date is likely to get maximum attendance – maybe an evening or weekend?
- Notice period needed for residents (check your constitution).
- What will be on the agenda? Your constitution will state minimum requirements but you can add items.
- Date by which annual report will need to be printed/copied/distributed
- Deadline for production of accounts- get books etc. to auditor/independent verifier in time.
- How will Annual Report be distributed –volunteers or pay a company?
- Do you want to invite a speaker? Think who is most likely to attract attendance. Send invitations immediately.
- Who else is to be invited- THH, funders, Councillors?
- Provision of refreshments / meal / entertainment.
- How will you conduct elections? Maybe someone independent takes this item? (usually THH Community Partnerships team)
- At the meeting, give vote of thanks to outgoing committee and others who have helped over the year.
- Get photograph of newly elected committee for feedback to residents/noticeboard etc.

Guidance on producing an Annual Report for TRAs

This is an important PR document for the TRA. You want people to support you and join you. You want them to come to your AGM. You can also use it to support grant applications. It needs to:

Inform residents who you are – put in a photograph and the names of committee members. Contact details.

Sell the TRA – what have you achieved over the year, not just what you have done.

Highlight what you will be pursuing in the coming year.

Include your (simple) financial statement: money in and money out = balance to spend. Thank funders.

Make it nice to look at, colourful, with photographs – you want people to want to read it. Any events you held – include photographs. Keep it simple to read.

Ask your Community Partnerships Officer for assistance with production or printing.

Circulate widely – to every household. Also to other interested parties, landlord, Councillors, funders, voluntary groups.

Guidance on digital engagement within TRAs:

The purpose of this note is to:

- 1) Acknowledge the growing use of digital technology and social media within TRAs.
- 2) Facilitate the use of these platforms by TRAs in their communications with members.
- 3) Ensure that communications within TRAs remain open, transparent and accountable to members and THH (as well as others, such as THH and funders).
- 4) Ensure that digital forms of communication do not exclude residents who do not use technology or smart phones.
- 5) Increase participation in TRAs by opening them up to those who are unable to attend meetings in person.

Calling/holding meetings

(e.g. via WhatsApp, email, messenger, Facebook, TRA website etc.)

- You cannot use these applications as a substitute for written notices unless you know that absolutely everyone in the area you represent has access to them.
- If you wish to use them for committee meetings when everyone does have access, you will need to be able to demonstrate the record for this – e.g. take a screenshot and keep it on file.
- You will need signed and dated consent from people to be included or not included in an application (cross reference to Data Protection Guidance).

Consulting members:

- As above, there must be a printed record of messaging threads for any conversations that have bearing on a decision.
- For any conversations that take place over the phone, there must be a saved record of any important conclusions reached.
- Outcomes of using these methods of consultation should be reported to the next committee or general meeting and include in minutes.

Decision making:

- Any issue which is to be put to a vote must be very clearly explained. Residents should be given the opportunity to discuss any issues in person with a committee member.
- Any vote cast using digital platforms must be saved on record (i.e. by screenshotting the evidence).

Tips:

- You may wish to save screenshots and other messaging thread records in a central cloud system such as Dropbox. Members could be given read-only access, and the Secretary editing permissions.
- You could consider using SurveyMonkey as a way of getting people's views on a topic. Seek advice from THH in wording questions as you must be careful not to lead people to certain answers. Please note that you should not be voting on SurveyMonkey.
- You could consider using a free site such as <https://www.wix.com/> to create a simple website for your TRA.

Guidance to TRAs on Data Protection

The new General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) means that all organisations must be more transparent about their use of data.

TRAs will probably be collecting names, addresses and contact details in the following ways:

- Meeting attendance sheets
- Resident details in minutes
- Event registrations
- Email databases and other contact lists
- Social media/websites

Storing data:

You need to tell residents where this information will be stored, e.g. locked filing cabinet in office/personal flat. This place will need to be secure and you will need to name the people with access.

Using and sharing data:

You must inform residents about the exact uses to which you will put their data, including any intent to share data with third parties or other members of the TRA. The third parties must be named and a reason for the sharing of information given. You must gain stated consent that is dated and stored in a safe location. This will need to be consent from the child's parents if they are under 16 years of age. Consent can be withdrawn at any time, meaning that the data should be deleted.

Photographs:

Let residents know if you intend to take photographs at events or meetings and secure stated consent that is dated and stored in a safe location. Inform them that these photographs may be used in annual reports, event publicity, or by THH for promotional purposes. Always offer people the opportunity not to be in pictures.

Attendance details:

Signing in sheets for meetings should include names, addresses and contact details (email or telephone) but only the name should be entered into meeting minutes. Event registration should also contain this information. TRAs should be clear with residents that this information may be shared with THH or funding organisations for monitoring purposes.

If you are unclear on any of the above points then contact THH for advice. It is advised that you name a person responsible for data handling and processing who can be a point of contact for both THH and residents on this subject.

Card numbers should only be used in secure transactions and should not be provided in response to unfamiliar or suspicious websites, emails, text messages, telephone calls, mobile phone applications or social media messages.

If conducted on websites, card transactions should be conducted only on secure websites. The "https" prefix should be on every page of websites used to conduct transactions, in addition to the sign-in page.

Options to "Remember my card number" on websites where transactions are conducted should not be used.

Transaction receipts should be saved and compared to statements to ensure that unauthorized charges have not been added. Any transactions made by unauthorized parties should be reported to the appropriate financial institution, card issuer or biller.

On-line banking

The computer to be used will be kept up-to-date with antivirus software, operating system patches, firewalls etc and ensure the browser is set to the highest level of security.

The user will be wary of unsolicited emails or phone calls asking you for PINs or passwords – your bank or the police would never ask for these in full.

The user will always type the bank’s address into the web browser and never follow a link in an email and then enter personal details.

The user will ensure a locked padlock or unbroken key symbol should always appear in your browser window when banking online. The ‘http’ at the beginning of the website address will change to ‘https’ when a secure connection is made.

When making a payment, the user will always double check that you have entered the correct account number and sort code.

The user will never leave your computer unattended when logged in and log off as soon as you’re finished, especially on any public computer.

The user will:

- Check statements regularly – if you notice anything strange, contact the bank immediately.
- Be wary of any unexpected or suspicious looking ‘pop-up’ windows that appear during your online banking session.
- Stop and think about the process you normally go through to make a payment to someone – be suspicious if it differs from the last time you used it.
- Watch out for fraudsters who sometimes try to trick people into making a real payment by claiming “it’s just a test”.

ADVICE:

Stay safe when shopping and banking online.

Shopping online can be quick and convenient, but you need to protect your financial information. Make sure that you're using a secure website before entering any personal details.

There are ways to spot that a website is secure, including:

- the website address starts with 'https' - the 's' stands for secure
- the address bar is green, which is an additional sign that you're using a safe website
- a padlock symbol in the browser where the website address is (but don't be fooled if the padlock appears on the page itself)
- a current security certificate which is registered to the correct address. (this appears when you click on the padlock)

Be aware that a padlock symbol is not an absolute guarantee of safety. If you ever have doubts it's best to leave the page.

To help protect you while shopping or banking online, follow these simple tips:

- Beware of pop-up messages that warn you about a website's security certificate. They may direct you to a fake website that's designed to get you to hand over your security details.
- Use online retailers with a good reputation, as either high-street shops or established online stores.
- Look for the company's full contact details. A reputable company will always display this information on its website.
- Cross-check information on the internet to see if anyone has experienced problems with the retailer.
- Find out where the seller is based because consumer rights vary from country to country. To find out more information about buying from sellers based in other EU countries, you can visit the UK European Consumer Centre website.
- Use the same credit card for internet transactions only. If anything goes wrong, you can always cancel this card.
- If a deal looks too good to be true, it probably is, and be cautious of anything offered in an unsolicited email
